

Camera Strap Buddy

What it is: Attachment point for a camera strap

What it does: By attaching one side of the camera strap to the bottom of the camera the orientation rotates and the camera now points downward. This orientation lays the camera flat against the photographer's side in a comfortable position. This position keeps the camera close and dramatically reduces bouncing or swinging of the camera. This in turn minimizes potential accidents from the camera banging or swinging into something. The Camera Strap Buddy offers a simple method to improve comfort and control while carrying a camera.

Why its cool: SLR cameras are Heavy, Bulky and uncomfortable to carry! The camera strap buddy makes carrying a camera dramatically more comfortable and secure. For a small investment a photographer can dramatically improve the comfort of carrying a larger camera. The existing camera strap can be used with the product saving them time and money! The Camera Strap Buddy provides the most comfortable and secure method to carry a camera!
